Summer Happenings at SJC

SJC recently celebrated the 10th Anniversary of the Carol Autorino Center for the Arts and Humanities, The Bruyette Athenaeum and the Art Gallery. Find out about exciting upcoming events hosted on campus, such as:

Shakespeare Under the Stars at SJC: Richard III

Join Capital Classics Shakespeare Festival for its 21st season and get to know one of history’s most enthralling villains! Richard III blends humor and heartache in a timeless story that will entertain the whole family. The Capital Classics Shakespeare Festival plays outdoors in front of The Carol Autorino Center (rain location: the adjacent Hoffman Auditorium). Bring a picnic, lawn chair, blanket and friends!

Richard III will play July 28-August 14, 2011, Thursdays-Saturdays at 7:30 p.m.; Sundays at 5:30 p.m. Pre-show entertainment includes the music of the Elizabethan Consort, stage combat demonstrations, our “Professors’ Series,” and more.

For more information or to purchase tickets, visit www.capitalclassics.org.

Tour the SJC Campus!

Visit campus for a summer tour with a student leader. Tours are given at 10:00 a.m. or 2:00 p.m. three days per week. Additionally, a tour will be available prior to our Transfer and Transform event on July 27, 2011 at 4:30 p.m. For information on tours and events, go to www.sjc.edu/visitus

Program Spotlight: Dietetics and Nutrition

“The study of Nutrition is becoming increasingly important to the general public,” states Associate Professor and Chair of the department Dr. Margery Lawrence. Nutrition incorporates both the hard and the soft sciences. “Everyone is interested in Nutrition to some degree; it’s a central discipline,” says Dr. Lawrence.

Internships
Students in the Dietetics and Nutrition Program participate in internships at sites such as:
- Hospitals
- Residential care facilities
- Home health care agencies
- Schools, prisons, and more
